Behind the 60's are a thousand scenes of Williams:
*Football and basketball * Cheerleaders * Assemblies*
*The car, the keys, flowers, and dates **
*The Joy – the Chaos * And all the in-betweens **

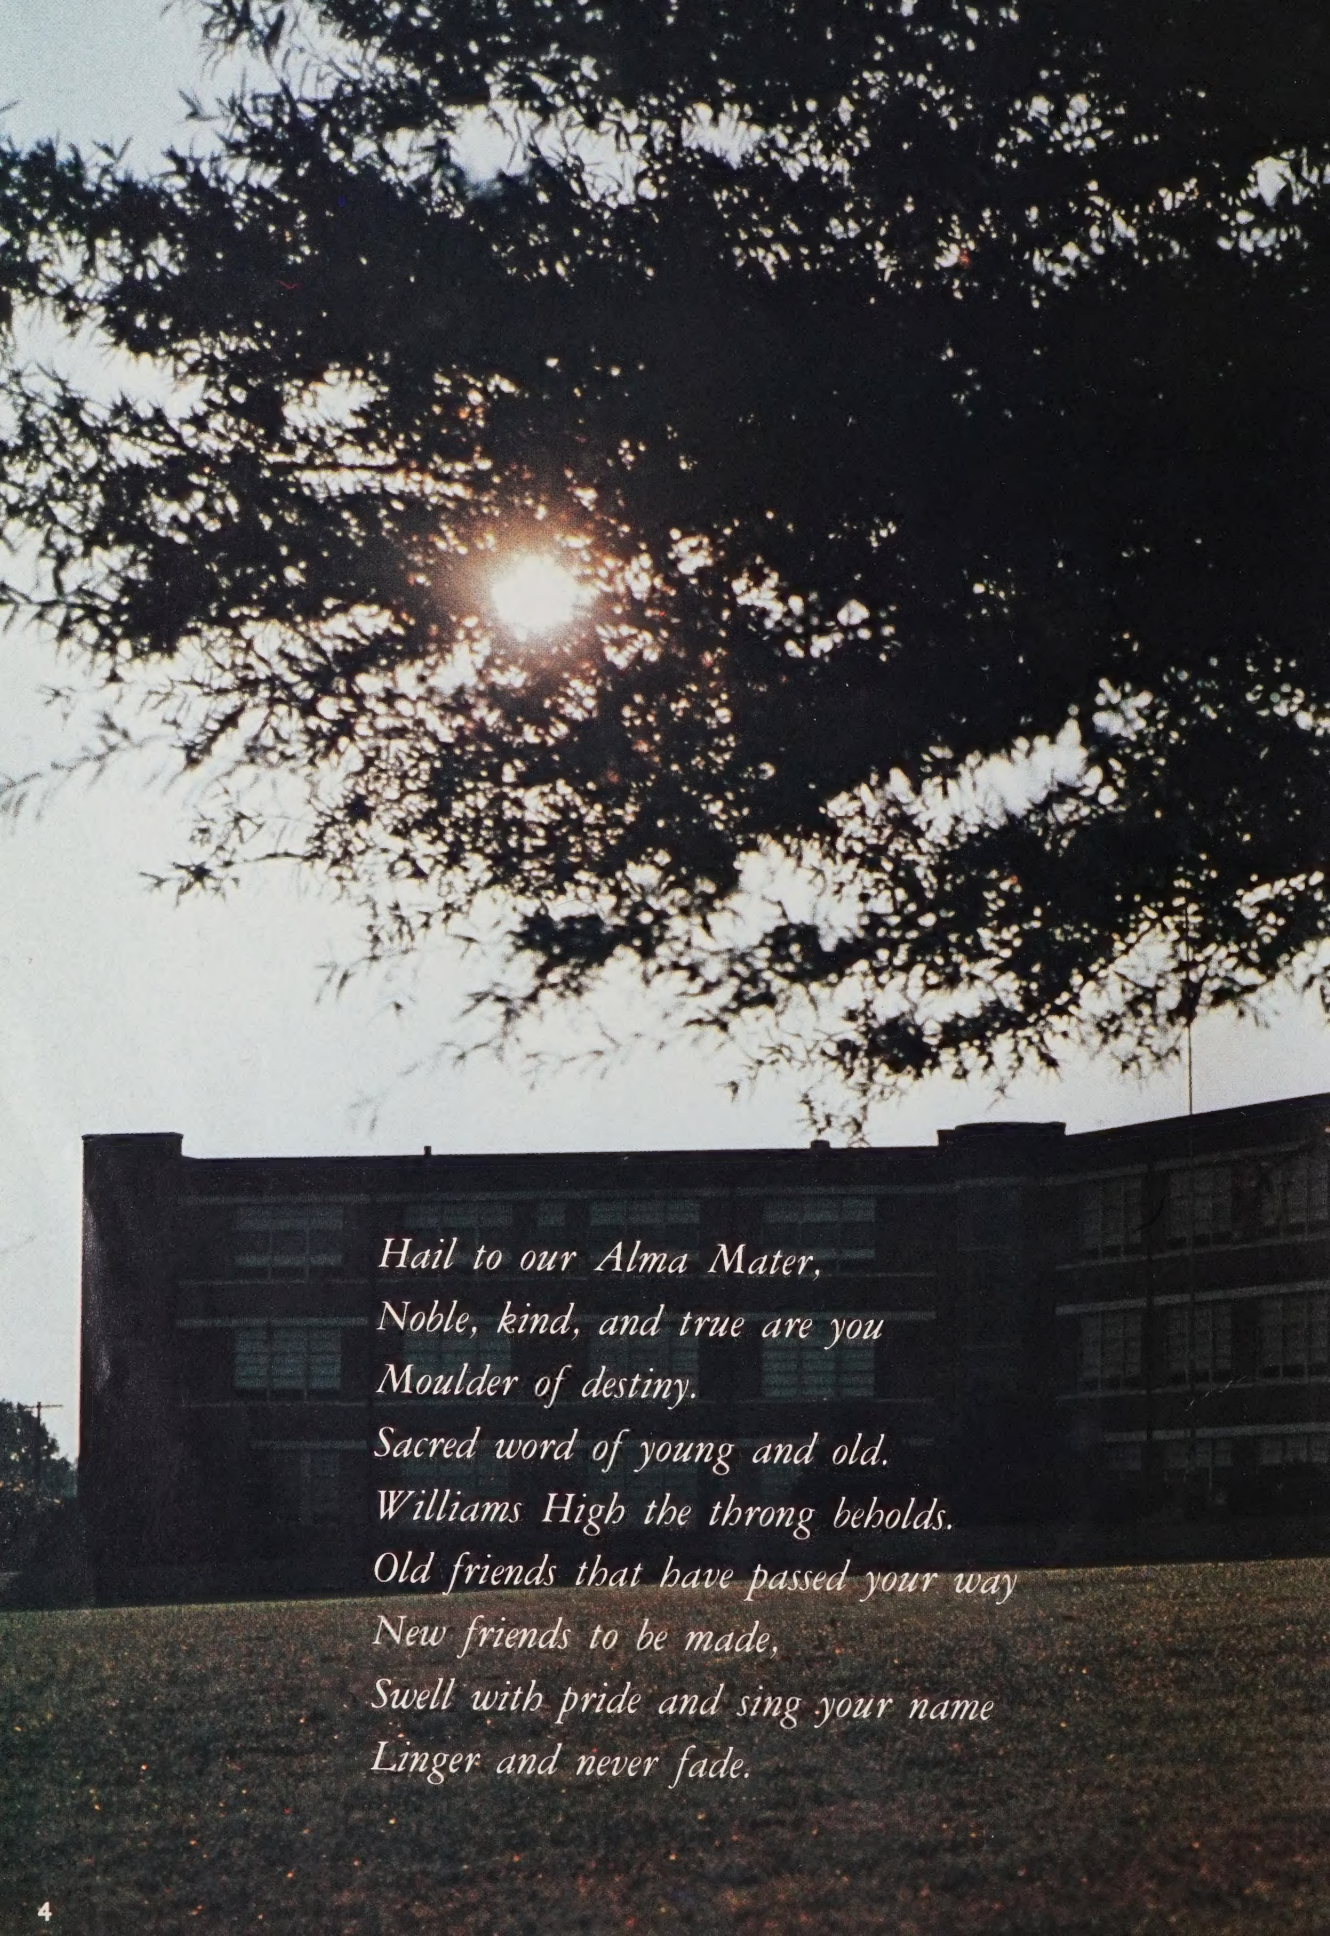
*Nails and hammers * Pencil and paper * The Prom*
*Homecoming * The school and the spirit * The memories*
*The hope, the desire * The creation * The destruction – Time **

The time is now – 1970 – for self, for truth,
*Equality, freedom, knowledge * For Peace **

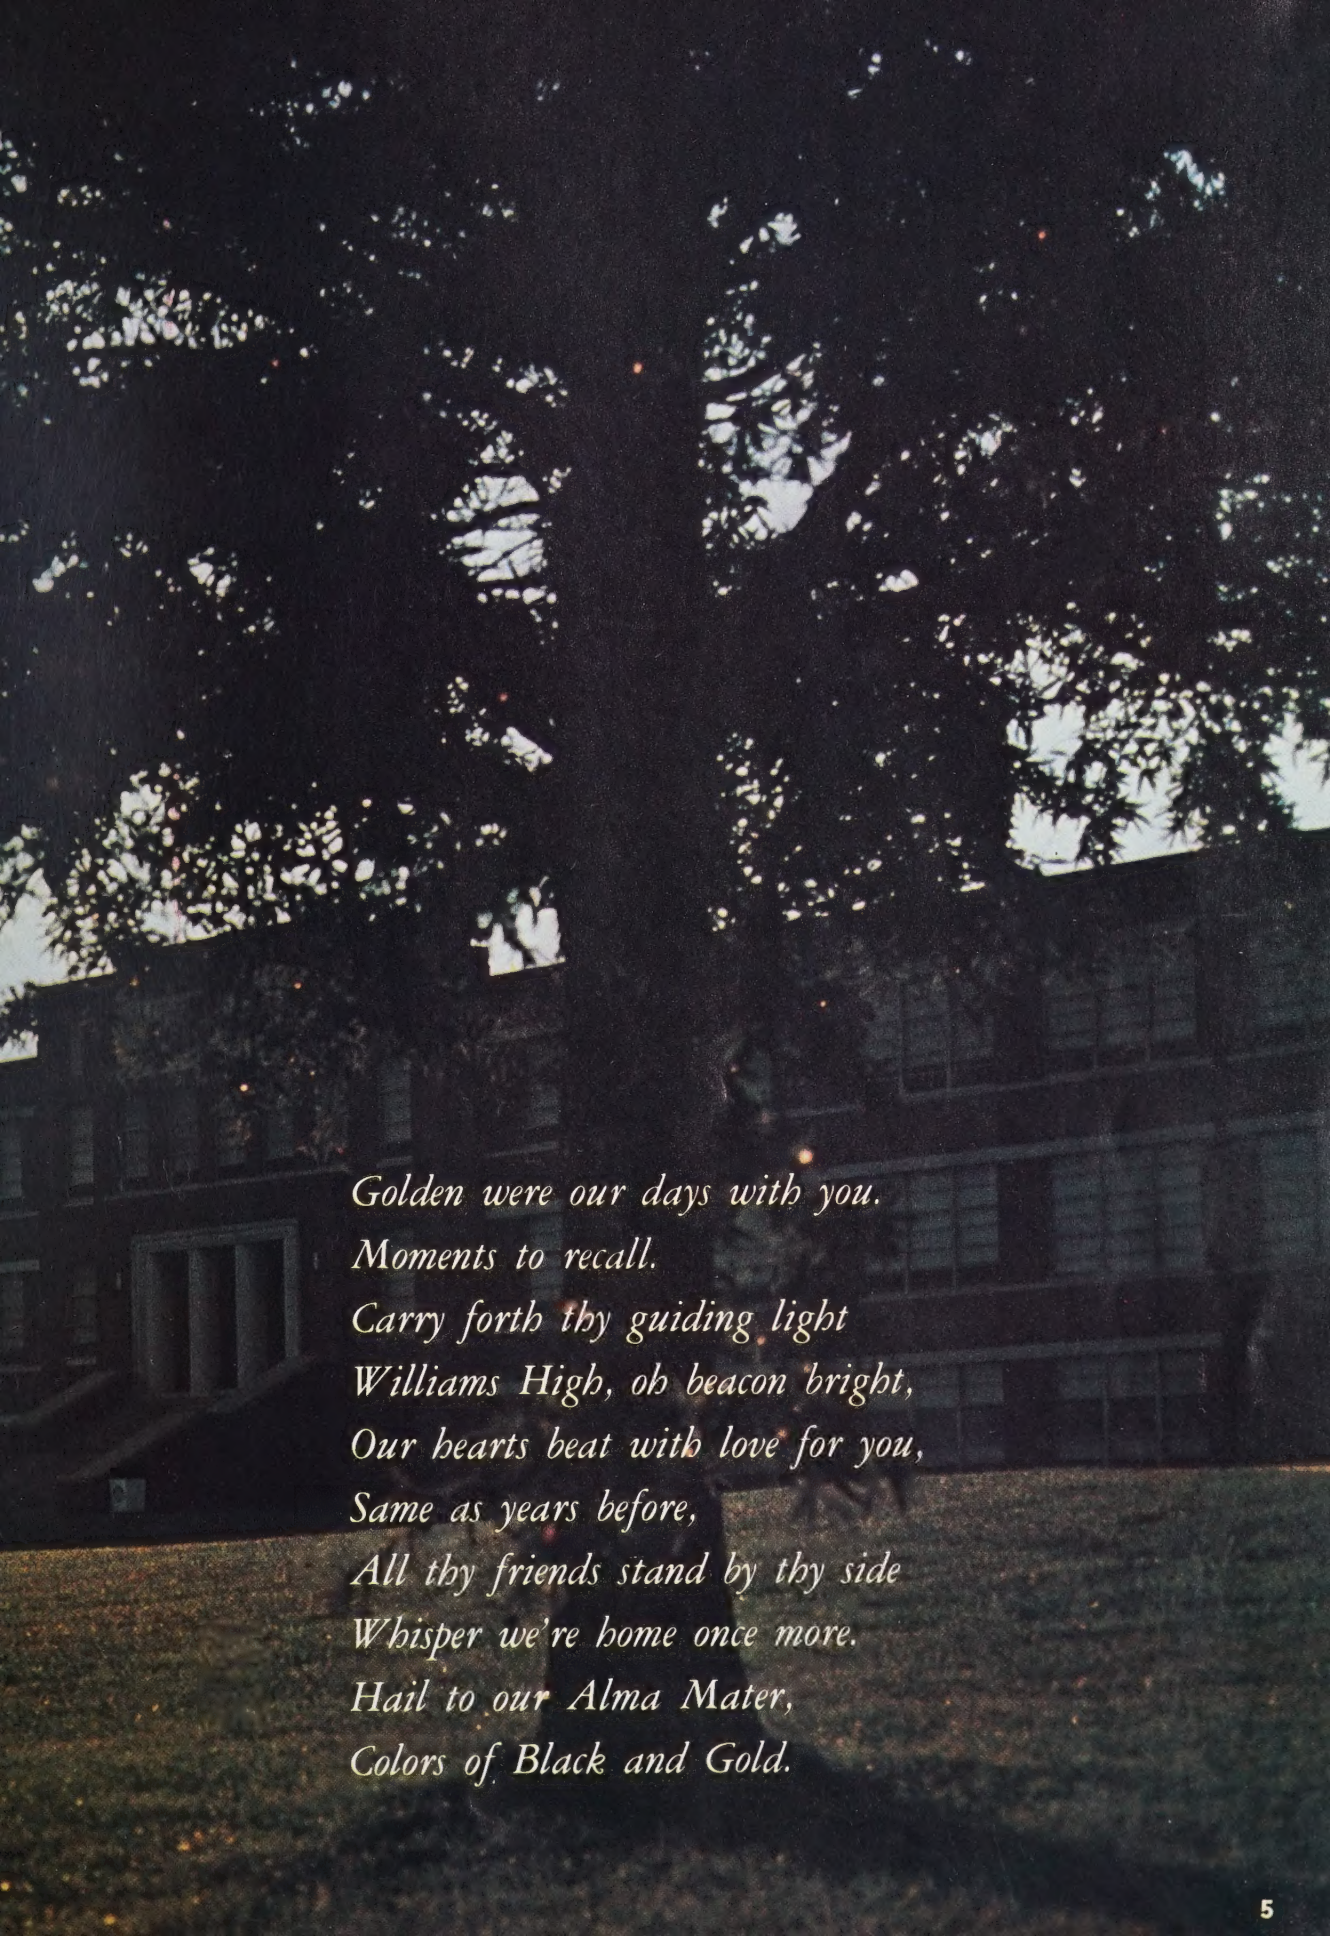
*People in action * Packed drama * Writing new lines because*
*They play new parts * Right lane? Left lane?*
*Or the median between? **

The Key?
*Man with understanding * Education * Love **
*Found in time * And at last the exit.*
*Glowing red bulbs, lighting our way out past the gold-studded marque **
*The end of an era * The dawn of a new age **

*The Future * The new light * The 1970's **
Found after the black nights –
*Tomorrow's bright-gold world **

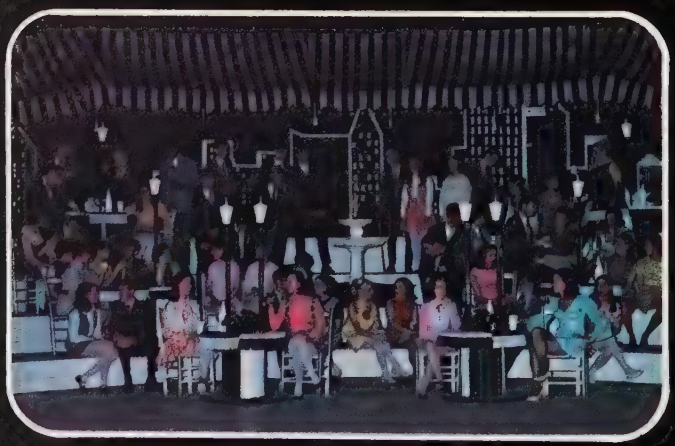


Hail to our Alma Mater,
Noble, kind, and true are you
Moulder of destiny.
Sacred word of young and old.
Williams High the throng beholds.
Old friends that have passed your way
New friends to be made,
Swell with pride and sing your name
Linger and never fade.



Golden were our days with you.
Moments to recall.
Carry forth thy guiding light
Williams High, oh beacon bright,
Our hearts beat with love for you,
Same as years before,
All thy friends stand by thy side
Whisper we're home once more.
Hail to our Alma Mater,
Colors of Black and Gold.

PAST – memories left in colorful hues, of events that came – time created foundations destined to endure as the last act was played – but then, "All the world's a stage."



PRESENT – we have started the search for our goal of Life – the bridge of time has carried us into the crusade for self, for truth, for right, and for knowledge – we live, we act, we play – and yet, we still look forward to this new day.

FUTURE – the bright color of the dawn reflects its shadows upon the foundations and creations of the Past – the current of time carries us swiftly to the dreams, goals, and carefully molded hopes for our lives – the quest for peace among humanity still remains our challenge on this DAWN OF A DECADE –

In Dedication to . . .

Miss Nancy L. Graves

When we look back into our high school life, many teachers will be remembered as friends as well as instructors. These teachers are outstanding in that they attempt to nurture the individual as a person and as a student. They become involved in every aspect of school life and work side by side with the students. There exists no gap between teacher and student. A teacher? Yes, but also a friend, a guide. In gratitude for her interest and her leadership, the DOE-WAH-JACK 1970 is dedicated to MISS NANCY GRAVES.

Librarians and Guidance Counselors

The Williams library provides a necessary place for students to study and compile research. It is equipped with a large assortment of reading materials. To achieve the appropriate atmosphere, there are two capable librarians to aid us, Mrs. Mary Leonard and Miss Gay Williams. They are always present and ready to help us in any possible way.

This year WHS students have been guided by a staff of three persons, Mrs. Nancy Bell, Mrs. Shirley Freeman, and Mrs. Marydell Bright. It has been a busy year for the guidance department, for they have had among their responsibilities the tasks of administering different tests, counseling the students in academic and personal areas, and planning for the future students of WHS. This department has proved that it is an essential part of student life.

They learn the significance of historical developments as well as the dramatic story of mankind as told in U.S. and world history. I got them ole 'zam days blues.

Seniors – the big ones at Williams, the top dogs, creative, thinking, proud. Behind – three years at Williams; ahead – life dreams and memories. Two years as sophomores and juniors; now seniors, the pinnacle of prestige and power. With the new power comes a questioning and a search for a philosophy, a theme on which to base a life. It is the last year for seniors at Williams, and everyone begins a surge to cram into every moment as much action as possible, to gain experiences that will mellow in time into memories, memories of good ole' Williams High.

"No Genius Exists Like the

We are the Juniors of WHS. As Juniors we faced many challenges, the first of which was the production of a talent show. This year we made a fantastic voyage to the moon. We gave the most successful talent show in the history of Williams.

During the winter, we made plans for an exciting, different prom. The prom was held at Holly Hill Mall with elaborate, formal trimmings, including a meal preceding the dance and evening activities.

Through this formative year, Pride and Success have molded us into mature, responsible young people. We now feel that we are ready to receive a new title – Seniors.

Williams offers many new opportunities for novice sophomores – better education, larger responsibilities, and various extracurricular activities. As the Class of '72, we looked forward to being involved at WHS, and were glad when we finally arrived period. We were anxious to meet upperclassmen and to make new friends. We endeavored to live up to our potential. Most of all we appreciated the good will and school spirit that is exhibited by our fellow BULLDOGS. For us, Williams was a challenge – a challenge we accepted.

The Honored

Valedictorian and Salutatorian

Sonia McIntyre
VALEDICTORIAN

Based on the merit of highest academic achievement, the selection of valedictorian and salutatorian is awarded to two outstanding seniors each year. These honors have been achieved from the 1970 graduating class by Sonia McIntyre and Cindy Nowell. Both girls have contributed much to the social as well as academic status of Williams High School, and their consistent interest has gained them the respect of both faculty and students.

Sonia McIntyre, valedictorian, has earned the highest honor. The salutatorian, Cindy Nowell, is the recipient of the second-highest honor.

Special recognition is given to these students at Commencement exercises, when they deliver their traditional speeches. Cindy Nowell will deliver the salutatory as second-highest achiever, and Sonia McIntyre will address the Senior Class as recipient of the highest academic honor in the valedictory.

Mardi Gras

Color, excitement and gaiety were all a part of the 1969 Homecoming theme – "George Goes to the Mardi Gras."

Instead of the usual assembly program, the Choral Department sponsored a Homecoming Show open to the public the night prior to the game. The show was presented as a salute to the One Hundreth Anniversary of football and the Nineteenth Anniversary of Williams High, in memory of Mr. Howard Mullis. Miss Ann Kukel was crowned Homecoming Queen and was escorted by Mr. Bill Mitchell.

'69 Homecoming King and Queen relinquish title to Royalty of 1970: Ann Kukel and Bill Mitchell.

The Homecoming Parade got everyone in the Mardi Gras spirit by bringing a touch of New Orleans to the streets of Burlington. There was a gay and festive air as dragons, steamboats, masked figures, and colorful, as well as unusual, floats paraded by.

That night the fun and celebration was continued, and although the Bulldogs were unable to gain a smashing victory, everyone had a memorable time.

King and Queen of Prom '69: Debbie Lovette, Bo Roberts

On a warm, fragrant spring evening in April, 1969, Walter Williams seniors and juniors entered the portals of "La Ville D'Amour" ("The City of Love") via the long awaited and most well planned Junior-Senior Prom.

As students entered the beautifully decorated gym, they passed under the arch of the intricately and realistically wrought Arc de Triumph. Moving on, they found themselves at the base of the Eiffel Tower, under which bubbled a cheerful fountain in the midst of a wishing well surrounded by entwining vines and colorful flowers.

Further enhancing the atmosphere of an evening in Paris were the lighted "sidewalks" and cafe tables so characteristic of the French city. Another note of authenticity was added by the prom servers, the boys dressed as waiters, and the girls as can-can girls.

Throughout the evening, loud strains of the latest top hits, played by the Checkmates, added a happy note to the festivities and provided an opportunity for dancing.

The long anticipated "dream" of each high school student truly became a reality as "The City of Love" came to their Junior-Senior.

Early in 1970, the Senior Class opened nominations for suggestions as to the selection of Junior Marshalls. Five suggestions were finally voted on. The fifth one was chosen by the Senior class as the new method of choosing not Junior Marshalls, but now, Senior Ushers. According to this provision, there would be no voting, but the Senior Ushers would automatically be the Junior Class officers, the Secretary and Treasurer of the school, and the Sophomore Class officers. An amendment was passed that these ushers not be allowed to attend Senior Activities.

Art – man's efforts to express his soul without the barriers of words. It is talent nutured into maturity by years of training and patience. Some students have the ability to express themselves in this art media. Those which do excel in this field are the Scholastic Art Winners. Four hundred and sixty nine winning pieces were selected from a total of two thousand four hundred and three entries submitted from Junior and Senior high schools throughout the twenty-six county area by a panel of six art educators.

They were chosen for excellence in voice, French, art, social science, music, orchestra, and dance. Runs a Winning Season

"We had good boys who worked hard and had excellent attitudes." This was how Coach C. A. Frye described the 1970 version of Bulldog football. The team featured a strong defense and a balanced offense in compiling a respectable 6-4 record. For the first time in several years, the Bulldogs covered over 1,000 yards passing which added much excitement to the contest.

Although the team had numerous standouts, four players were singled out for all-conference honors. These were Ken Simmons, Joe Bell, Levon Gray, and Troy Slade, all from our rugged defensive unit.

Graduation will hit the team in some key positions next year. Juniors played a prominent role in this year's effort, however, and will undoubtedly carry on the same tradition. Consolidation will bring some promising athletes from Jordon Sellars. All of this should give us the foundation for an outstanding season next year.

Hearne and Reid excelled in the sprints field. Chuck Bingenheimer took honors in high jump, and Coleman in distance. Prospects for the 1970 track squad look good as several fine sophomores and juniors are returning.

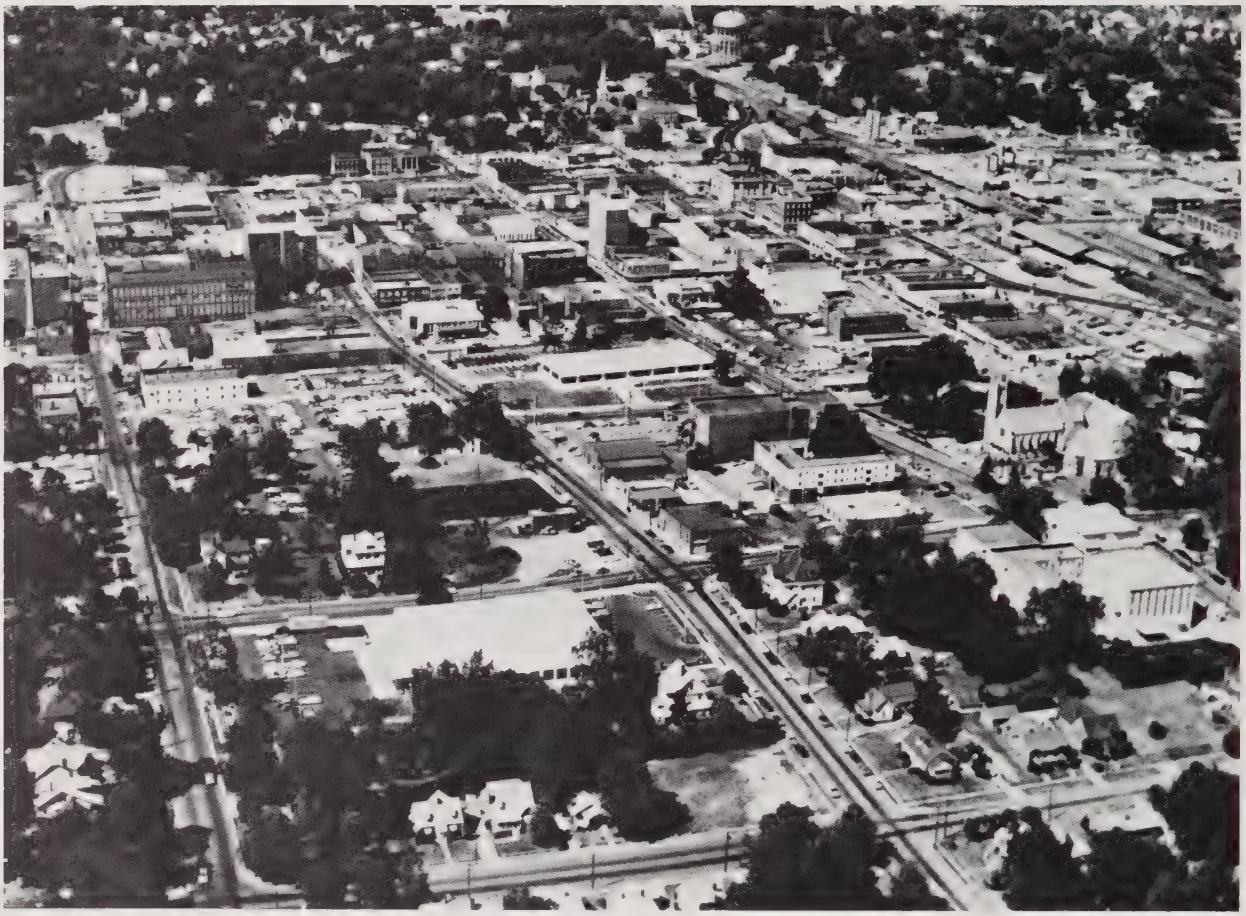
The Ads



The future of Burlington, its progress or downfall, will depend upon the businesses of our community. If the merchants and businessmen take an interest in the schools, they will be assured that Burlington will continue to prosper. The ads in this section represent the businesses' true concern. These organizations should be congratulated for their foresight.

We Build . . . We Serve

I must not be afraid to advance alone, for, in order to progress, man has ventured along many dark paths. Only by attempting the unknown and believing in my own ability can I light the way for others to follow. I must realize the value of this advancement and be an

44 Years of PROGRESS...

Pride in products and Company on the part of management and employees working together, combined with the interest and support of the people in the community have been the key to our growth. This has brought us from our beginning in Alamance County as distributor in 1925, and manufacturer in 1937, to the position of being one of the world's largest hosiery producers in 1969. Today we make hosiery and related products for men, women, and children under world famous brand names. Our plants are located in the cities shown on the map. We are pleased to bring you this story of progress, because it started in this area.

AND TODAY, THE KR MANUFACTURING SYMBOL IS LOCATED IN THESE SOUTHEASTERN CITIES...

Upon the past, the present was built; upon the present the future will depend. We are the present.

The light, after many years of oppression, is shining at dawn; could it be Hope? . . . Hope that only we can build toward? It must be built with the strength of a bridge, even if the bridge is only a symbol of love.

The crying of humanity has been heard throughout time. When sundown pales the sky and all prejudice and pride have been broken, perhaps then the glowing warmth of sun shall shine as we, together, build our future. We have groped in the dark, blindly seen, barely heard, halfway learned, but fervently sought . . . sometimes finding, sometimes too blind to see. We have learned to stand, to seek and now to venture forth. The dawn has come, finding us aware and ready to face the new decade with the thought that much has been done, but what is left is up to us and ours.
